

Posting Title: Agile Project Manager
Location: National (United States)

Current Need:

As Aviiva's Agile Project Manager, you empower our delivery teams to work productively and to bring to market the next generation of disruptive technologies to our clients. You are the key component of collaboration between the delivery and client teams. The Agile Project Manager facilitates and executes the product vision of our clients and helps to identify and eliminate roadblocks to the team's productivity by serving as Scrum Master. Your main goal is to protect and empower the team. You know how to foster a healthy, productive, and dynamic project team and you understand the importance of building trust within the team.

This position will work under the supervision of our client stakeholders, helping our management team gain visibility into the scope and direction of the project schedule. This position requires an assertive candidate with a strong knowledge of iterative and agile development methodologies. Must be able to ensure agile concepts and principles are adhered to, must be the voice of reason, and must be able to work with your team to make tough calls when necessary. The ideal candidate is an excellent communicator with superior organizational skills, has a head for technical issues, and a good sense of humor.

Position Description:

As a Project Manager you will have overall responsibility for project operations including oversight of development, quality assurance, escalation management, client relationship management, and budgeting. Successful candidate will have demonstrated ability to serve in a senior project management capacity. Candidates will have proven experience working for large and mid-sized organizations and the ability to work at the management level. The primary role of this position is to lead overall operations/delivery and successful project management for Business Intelligence, Integration, and Integrity Transformation Projects. The Project Manager will be comfortable managing multi-million dollar development projects. You will oversee enterprise level engagements and managing large projects/contracts while balancing multiple concurrent projects ensuring project activities and deliverables are accomplished within scope, on time, within established budget and early identification of any deviation from aforementioned constraints. Responsibilities include attending executive level client meetings and corresponding with clients, senior level management, subcontractor management and subject matter experts. You will manage scope of work/requirements, specifically the definition, management, and execution of specific project plans and deliverables, ensuring conformance with overall program and project task schedules, costs, contractual obligations and client objectives. Project Manager will lead teams of engineers & maintain strong team atmosphere, promote effective solutions delivery, ensure quality and integrity of work performed.

General Requirements:

- 5-10 years IT Project Management experience including 3+ years leading software development projects.
- Top-rate project management skills coupled with hands on technical skills.
- Excellent written and verbal communication skills with ability to communicate clearly and straightforward.
- Excellent work ethic and self-motivated with the ability to succeed in hostile environments.
- Possesses outstanding ability to prioritize and organize effectively with ability to maintain confidentiality.
- Willing to travel 25-50%.

Minimum Requirements:

- Agile methodology a must! (Understand basic fundamentals of iterative development.)
- PMP PMBOK methodology is desirable.
- 3+ years experience in software project management.
- Must have successfully led development, business intelligence, and/or data warehouse projects.
- Exceptional client relationship management experience with strong written and verbal skills.

Education:

- 4-year degree in computer science or related field or equivalent experience (Master's Degree Preferred)

Send Resumes:

- Aviiva Careers | careers@aviiva.com

Connect with us:

